

CHILD of the MONTH

July 2017 S. B.

August 2017 B. M.

This young boy arrived at Bethesda this past March and overall, he has adjusted well. Moving homes and changing parents, siblings, bedtimes, routines, and food (among other things) is always a big adjustment and takes time. He now has the opportunity to get to know his older sibling who lives in the same home. We always do our best to keep siblings in the same family.

S. is still too young to be in crèche (preschool) and would much rather be outside, dancing, or running free around the Bethesda property. He is a loving boy who is full of joy and is learning to quickly get over his anger.

His mother said that he eats very well and that he is a good helper around the house. He brings joy to everyone who is staying in their home. One of his best characteristics is that he is willing to try everything. He is also working to learn to communicate in English. Its hard for him but he is working at it and soon, it won't be a problem.

You can pray for him and for his parents to help him learn obedience and to learn that obeying his parents is something that pleases God. You can also pray that he will continue to adjust well to his new parents and family.

We love watching B. grow up! She has changed tremendously during the years she has been at Bethesda. She loves attending her church and it is important to her so she participates in everything that she can. She is a great helper in the kitchen and she really enjoys reading.

She loves to share (which may mean that she likes to talk 😊) and everything is “just amazing!” She has a caring personality and is concerned for the well-being of other people. She has several other siblings in her home with whom she has become close and her mom also describes her as being a very loyal person.

As with any child, she has areas that she is working on and you can pray that she will become more willing to help cheerfully around the house. She needs to develop a mind-set of doing a job well—even if she doesn't want to do it. You can also pray that she will do her best in school. Although it may be hard for her, she needs to work harder to achieve the potential that God has given to her.

Please Pray that:

He will learn to obey and grow in his knowledge of God
He will continue to improve in his communication

Please Pray that:

She will develop a mind-set of working hard at home
She will work harder in school and achieve her potential
